there's so much water and
in a way it feels weird,
which is the first city (of 4)
where you can really feel
the presence

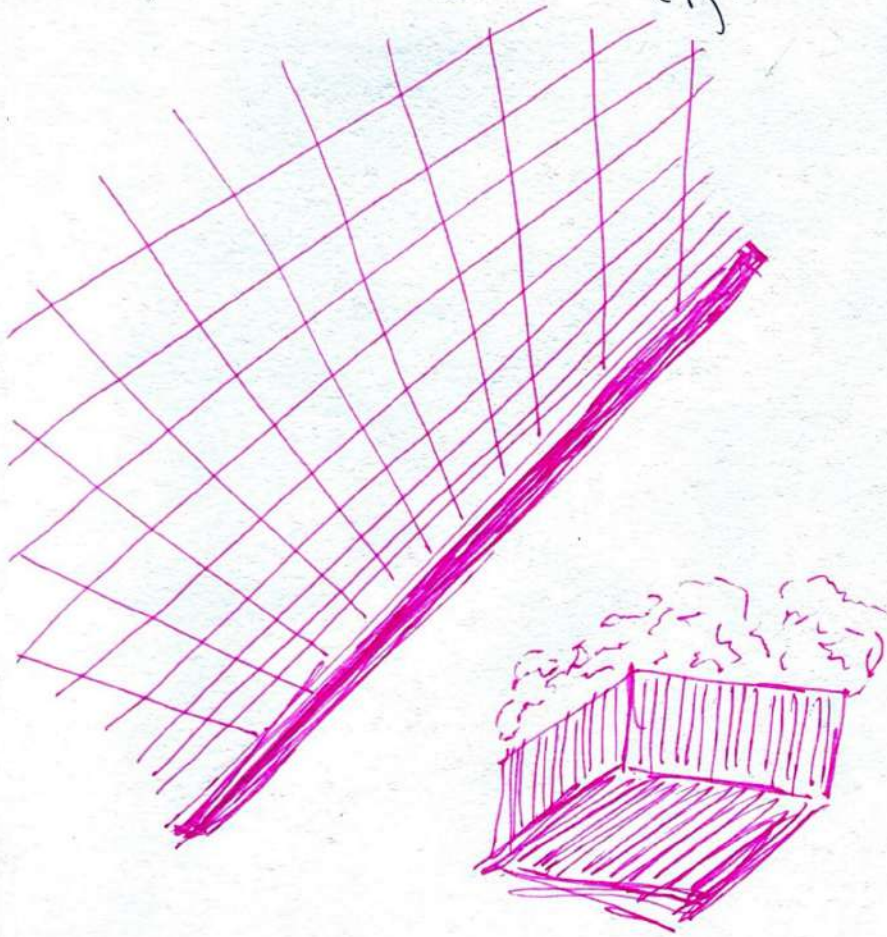

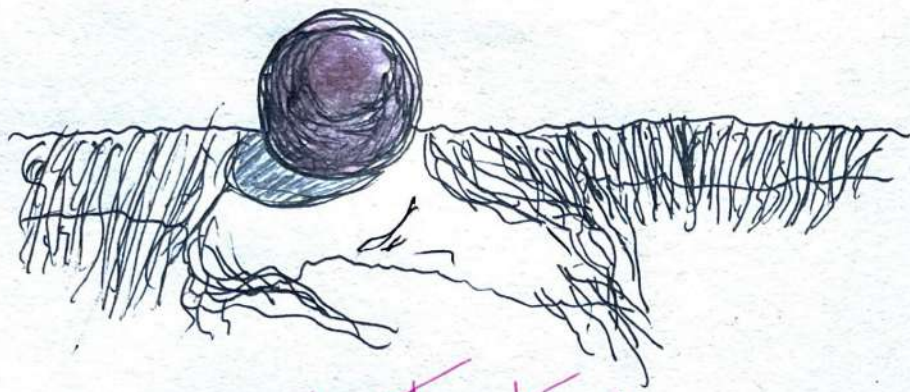

of water.
I can see why the
people here are happy +
they look well rested, also
the view is absolutely
endearing :)

"supposedly the
minute hand is 5m long"
"there's no way,
it's max 2m"
* it was 5m indeed *

REMISE ROSA

everything was pink!

today is also quite hot outside. the sun is shining and i have to carry my backpack the whole day with me. but luckily today i'll film water, more specifically the lake and the situation around. maybe we will have a chance to dip our toes into the water.

went to also
visit ETH
Zürich and
was in shack

how bad master students' models were...
put together with black macgyver
tape... or lots of glue stains... but otherwise the drawings and overall exhibition was quite good.
